

ALL-STATE FESTIVAL PROGRAM

MAY 13-14, 2022

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

On behalf of the Michigan School Vocal Music Association, it is my privilege and pleasure to extend congratulations to all participants of the inaugural All-State Festival. Each and every one of the student musicians in this year's festival represent the best of the best in arts throughout Michigan schools.

For the students taking the stage, their performance marks the culmination of a process that began in the fall. Honors Choir singers auditioned and were selected for Regional Honors Choir, participated in Regional Honors Choir and that time auditioned and were accepted into one of three State Honors Choirs. The students performing in the All-State Honors Choir are in the top tier of all students as determined by the judges to represent the best high school singers in the State of Michigan.

Similarly, soloists, ensembles and choirs have advanced through district and state level adjudicated events with excellent ratings and/or through an adjudicator listening panel. These student musicians are the select few chosen by our adjudication process as outstanding representatives of the very best vocal musicians in Michigan.

A special welcome to all families and friends of the students attending this year's festival. Your support of music education in your homes, communities, and schools is greatly appreciated by all of the students gathered here on the campus of Michigan State University.

We also encourage you to consider increasing your financial support of the Michigan School Vocal Music Association. The Michigan School Vocal Music Association is a non-profit, 501(c)(3) organization that exists to empower students through the art of vocal music. You can learn more about our organization at msvma.org and can donate directly at msvma.org/donate.

Please enjoy the 2022 MSVMA All-State Festival. Welcome to all!

Director of Summer Conference and All-State Festival

Erich Wangeman received his B.A. in Music Education and M.A. in Choral Conducting from Michigan State University. He has enjoyed teaching vocal music to middle and high school students for over thirty years alongside incredible colleagues who have been wonderful friends and inspiring educators. Mr. Wangeman has mentored student teachers from Alma College, Eastern Michigan University, Michigan State University, and the University of Michigan. His own students have attended these, as well as many other notable schools of music and several have gone on to careers in music education at the elementary, secondary, and collegiate levels. Other students of Mr. Wangeman currently perform for opera companies throughout the United States and Europe, as well as in musicals on Broadway. Choirs under Mr. Wangeman's direction have earned highest ratings at MSVMA festivals and have performed at the Michigan Youth Arts Festival and the Michigan Music Conference numerous times. He has had choirs featured at both Regional and National Conventions for the American Choral Directors Association, and his programs have been recognized by receiving prestigious education grants from National Geographic and the Weill Institute at Carnegie Hall. Mr. Wangeman is a nationally recognized choral clinician and the subject of the book, "Swagger, Gentlemanliness, and Brotherhood: Explorations of Lived Experiences In a High School Men's Chorus" by Andrea Ramsey. He is frequently asked to present interest-sessions about the developing male voice and building men's choruses. Mr. Wangeman has been recognized by Haslett Public Schools with an "Inspiration Award" and also during his tenure in Traverse City Public Schools as a Michigan Education Department "Proud Michigan Educator". He has served MSVMA as President and he continues to be an active and grateful member of the organization, which has had a truly significant impact on his personal and professional life. Though distinction in performance remains a focus in his teaching, Mr. Wangeman's greatest joy comes from the traditions built over the years by young people who are dedicated to vocal excellence, musical achievement, and the unique community created when people share their voices in song.
